DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments, see After Final Amendment, filed 7-31-2006, with respect to the rejections of claims 1-34 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejections of claims 1-34 have been withdrawn. Upon close review of the claims, the prior art, and applicant's remarks in the After Final Amendment it appears that the allowance of claims 1-34 are appropriate.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The integrated circuit of U.S. Patent No. 6,732,176 by Stewart is functionally equivalent to the claimed apparatus and machine-readable medium including providing available network services through a wireless access point device. Although Stewart teaches private mode (e.g. higher access level to view local resources on a local network and have access to Internet) and public mode of operation (e.g. lower access level to have access to limited local resources) (Stewart: col. 12, lines 11-29; col. 14, line 57 – col. 15, line 5; col. 15, line 29 – col. 16, line 37), Stewart fails to disclose broadcasting or wirelessly transmitting a synchronization signal from a wireless access point device indicating one of a plurality of modes of operation for the access point, the plurality of modes of operation including a private mode of operation for authorized devices and a public mode of operation for authorized or non-authorized devices, as recited in claims 1-34. Therefore, Stewart does not meet the requirements of the claimed invention.

Further, it would be contrary to the teaching in Stewart to modify the apparatus and machine-readable medium to:

pre-configure or dynamically configure the wireless access point in a mode of operation of the access point in either public or private mode, since Stewart strives to provide a private mode (e.g. higher access level) or public mode (e.g. lower access level) when a portable computing device sends identification information to the access point (Stewart: col. 12, lines 11-29; col. 16, lines 15-37).

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892 Form.
